PROFILE

Laston I am a pre-doctoral fellow (under Professor Dean Yang), an active member of the Development Economics@Michigan community, and an African Presidential Scholars alumnus at the University of Michigan - Ann Arbor. I hold a position of Lecturer in Economics (tenure track) at the University of Malawi, and got experience consulting with various organizations and international financial institutions, such as the World Bank. I have held various leadership positions in academic, workplace and in other settings; working with different development partners, government departments, and other organizations and institutions involved in high-level research and development activities.

I was born, raised and educated up to the Master's level in Malawi. My life experience has seen my passion for research and international development grow. I am looking to get into an Economics-related doctoral program with interests in development.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Jan 2021 – Present : Research Assistant: University of Michigan
-This is a pre-doctorate under Professor Dean Yang.

Feb 2020 - Present : Lecturer in Economics: University of Malawi
I teach, among others, Quantitative courses, Development Economics, Labour Economics and Monetary Economics. I also conduct research in various research projects.

Jan 2019 – Dec 2020 : Education Analyst Consultant: The World Bank Group
I conducted data analysis and wrote reports on the Malawi longitudinal schools Survey and government EMIS data, for the Malawi education Sector Improvement Programme (MESIP). I also developed survey instruments and supervised data collection teams for the project. In addition, I participated in Education Development Partner Group meetings arranged by the UNDP. I trained officials from the Ministry of Education on use of available data sets to direct education policy, and provided technical support in their research.

Jan 2019 – Dec 2020 : Finance, Competitiveness & Innovation Consultant: The World Bank Group

I undertook the first ever mapping exercise for business support programs in Malawi for various development partners, government and other NGOs. I contributed to drafting of project documents (such as the project Appraisal Document) for the Financial Inclusion and Entrepreneurship Scaling project by the World Bank.

Aug 2018 – Dec 2020 : Macroeconomics, Trade & Investment Consultant: The World Bank Group

I participated in several consultative meetings (with the IMF, central bank of Malawi, commercial banks, the private sector, government ministries and others) and co-drafted economic reports including the World Bank's flagship publication "the Malawi Economic Monitor (MEM)", a World Bank bi-annual publication that updates the state of the macroeconomy and addresses a special policy issue in Malawi. I also participated in disseminating the MEM findings with various stakeholders including government, development partners, NGOs and other interested parties. I worked with the Senior Country Economist to consolidate and update macroeconomics data on indicators such as inflation, interest rates, exchange rates and others.

2016 to 2018 : Part-time Lecturer: University of Malawi (Human Ecology & Statistics Departments)

I prepared and delivered lectures and tutorials to undergraduate students at the university from the time I was studying for the MA in Economics and after graduating. I also conducted research in the Department of Economics, including for policy formulation for the Tea Association of Malawi.

2015 to 2017 : Associate Director: TEREN Consulting Ltd

I led and managed various research projects, and conducted team building and technical training. I facilitated proposal writing, supervised field data collection, data management, data analysis and report writing. I led the firm in transitioning from paper-based surveys to online surveys at a time when online surveys were less familiar in Malawi.
